Post-Tour Day: Continue Your Post-Tour Extension

Breakfast is available from 5:00–10:00 a.m. Today, you may choose to enjoy an excursion to Lake Sandoval. After a 30-minute boat ride to Tambopata National Reserve, you'll walk approximately one hour through the rainforest to reach the lake—surrounded by rich Amazonian wildlife. Then, glide across a beautiful oxbow lake in a traditional wooden canoe. This protected area is home to the endangered giant river otter, as well as red howler monkeys, macaws, prehistoric hoatzins, anacondas, point-tailed palm creepers, and side-neck turtles. Spend about two hours on the lake, taking in the extraordinary biodiversity of this unique habitat.

After lunch, you may wish to discover the Inkaterra Canopy Walkway. A five-minute boat ride brings you to the Inkaterra Canopy Interpretation Center. From there, ascend a tower that rises 95 feet above the forest floor and begin a one-hour walk along suspension bridges connecting eight observation platforms. This treetop perspective offers breathtaking views of the forest and its inhabitants—strangler fig trees, orchids, toucans, woodpeckers, trogons, and, with luck, monkeys or sloths.

Following your descent from the canopy, a 30-minute guided walk through the jungle allows you to experience the Amazon from a different perspective. This lush environment teems with amphibians, birds, insects, mammals, and a wide variety of tropical flora.

Dinner is served in the main dining room tonight. Then, fall asleep to the soothing sounds of the Amazon rainforest.
