

Italy: The Dolomites

Tour-Only Itinerary

Cowbells clang in the distance as you inhale the cool mountain air atop Pütia saddle. The trail ahead winds through lush grassy slopes, dotted with hay barns, towards distant rocky spires. Across the next meadow lies a wood-timbered mountain refuge with forest-green shutters, vibrant red geraniums, and delectably sweet Kaiserschmarrn pancakes. Of course, indulging your taste buds requires no excuse on this Dolomites hiking tour. Admiring the scenery can wait. You've got hours before the setting sun casts its enrosadira (alpenglow) over the limestone peaks. For now, enjoy the Dolomites' heavenly human touches: a south Tyrolean farm family's warm welcome, cappuccino, strudel, and homemade dumplings with cheese from the dairy next door.

Activity Level

This tour is one of our Guided Walking Adventures, rated moderate to challenging, with an average of 5 to 7 hours (5-7 Alpine miles) of hiking per day and limited options. This tour is more of a hiking experience than a walking experience. There are significant ascents and descents of between approximately 1,100 and 2,100 feet per day. The highest walking altitude on the tour starts at approximately 8,000 feet, at a site which is accessed by cable car. Trails are a range of worn paths, gravel roads, and some stony stream crossings, and the footing varies from packed dirt to loose gravel, rocky sections, and steps on steep slopes. There might be roots that can be slippery when wet. The pace on this tour is steady, yet comfortable, with full days on the trail and transfers between 30 minutes to one hour. On several days, guests can choose to participate in a half- rather than full-day walk by shortening the walk with a cable car, gondola, or jeep shuttle, and instead exploring the towns of San Vigilio di Marebbe or Cortina.

DAY 1

Join your Italy: The Dolomites tour

Mount Plose; 4 miles, easy to moderate

Your guides will meet you at 1:30 p.m. (after lunch on your own) in the lobby of Hotel Goldener Adler in Bressanone/Brixen, Italy. They will be wearing Country Walkers shirts.

The tour begins in the charming medieval town of Bressanone (as it is known in Italian; in German, it's Brixen), located just 28 miles south of the Brenner Pass, the border between Italy and Austria. Bressanone is located in the South Tyrol, the part of Italy encompassing the Trentino and Alto Adige areas, and a bilingual region that belonged to Austria until 1918. In fact, locals speak more German than Italian. This "Ancient Bishop's City" is nestled between two rivers and enveloped by mountains sloping down to vineyards and lush orchards, with a pleasant center of narrow cobblestone streets, pastel-colored houses, and lovely buildings and bridges.

Following a brief orientation at your centrally located meeting point (also your first night's hotel), you set out for an afternoon walk at the neighboring ski area, Mount Plose. A scenic 10-minute gondola ride high above Bressanone and the Isarco Valley brings you to the start of your loop walk at an altitude of 6,700 feet. You follow a well-maintained panoramic trail with spectacular views over the Odle peaks, the site of tomorrow's walk, before a return gondola ride to the base of the mountain.

This evening, at a nearby restaurant, you enjoy an aperitivo of local Alto Adige wines and cured ham (speck) and cheeses, before sitting down to a dinner of outstanding South Tyrolean cuisine. A first course may be handmade spinach-filled ravioli, followed by a main course or secondo piatto of river trout, local game, or lamb, and you toast the start of your adventure with a crisp local white wine. Dessert may be your first taste of the region's delectable apple strudel.

Accommodation: Hotel Goldener Adler, Bressanone

Included Meals: Lunch, Dinner

DAY 2

Parco Naturale Puez-Odle

7 miles, moderate with a one-hour challenging uphill section, 1,150-ft. elevation gain and loss

You awaken to a generous breakfast buffet in your hotel's warm, wood-beamed dining room, including eggs to order, cheeses, speck, and an assortment of yogurts, cereals, juices, pastries, fruit, and, of course, cappuccino! Check out of your hotel, and board your private coach for a one-hour drive through the Funes Valley—the Dolomites' northwest boundary—and on to the Passo delle Erbe, roughly “the Grassy Pass,” where you can see the extraordinary peaks of the Odle that resemble a castle's battlements.

Today's route is along the Sass de Pütia loop, which starts on a wide gravel path bordered with heather and bilberry. The path ascends gently past summer hay huts and small summer mountain cabins called baita belonging to the local Ladin people. The ancient Ladin culture developed in isolated mountain valleys from the time of the Roman Empire, and this small minority population living in the Dolomites speaks the Ladin language.

In the summer, Ladini families climb to their summer cabins to relax, picnic, hay, and carve wood. At many of the cabins, refreshments or snacks are offered to hikers. Continuing through meadows, the trail narrows, skirting a mountain, and at this point, you encounter the day's greatest challenge—a 650-foot ascent of about an hour. Switchbacks make their way steeply up the hill, around large boulders, a trickling stream, and fields of Rhaetian poppies, with steps and timber traverses at the final push. The view from the top of the saddle, Pütia Fork, at about 7,700 feet, is well worth the effort. Take a deep breath as you admire rolling pastureland thick with yellow buttercups, gentians, pink mountain thrift, and views of the upper Badia Valley, the Fanes Range, and the Sella Group.

Rounding Pütia Mountain, the route then joins the famous Alta Via 2 (the second of a network of eight long-distance footpaths through the Dolomites, called Alte Vie, meaning “high paths”). These trails are weeklong routes and are served by numerous rifugi (alpine huts). The next mile or so is on a beautiful, level trail between green pastures and grazing cows, with views of the Sella group and the Odle. Soon, you'll see your lunch spot—the welcoming Rifugio Genova at 7,566 feet. Stunning views accompany a lunch of homemade mountain fare such as polenta with cheese, homemade noodles with mushrooms, and a local Forst beer. After lunch, you descend through sloping pasture to a valley of water mills—an open-air museum of sorts, complete with wooden sculptures—passing abundant wildflowers, while raptors soar overhead.

A short drive takes you to your home for the next two nights in the idyllic mountain village of San Vigilio di Marebbe, where you are welcomed by the family that has been running their Art Nouveau hotel for generations. Surrounded by a crown of mountains, the hotel's garden is the perfect place to enjoy a cocktail and experience the enrosadira, the Ladin word for the pink sunset glow illuminating the peaks as the sun's last rays strike the white dolomitic limestone. You proceed to the hotel's dining room for the chef's fare of locally raised meat, fresh vegetables, and herbs picked from the garden.

Accommodation: Hotel Monte Sella, San Vigilio di Marebbe

Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

DAY 3

Parco Naturale Fanes-Senes-Braies: Pederü to Capanna Alpina

5 or 8 miles, moderate to challenging, 2,045-ft. elevation gain (or 367-ft. gain if choosing 5-mile option) and 1,485-ft. elevation loss

A sumptuous breakfast buffet fuels you for today's walk in the Fanes-Senes-Braies Park, with a long, but gradual, ascent at the start. If you prefer, a convenient option will allow you to take a jeep ride to meet the group at lunchtime, and then enjoy the afternoon's five-mile walk. For those who choose the morning walk, a short drive brings you to the eastern end of the Val Badia and the glacially carved Pederü Valley. From the Rifugio Pederü at 5,079 feet, a long, wide mountain road over gradual switchbacks climbs for 2.5 hours (elevation gain of 1,680 feet), larch trees lining the way.

Passing a rocky gorge, you emerge onto the level Fanes Pasture. You amble past green pastureland, yellow wolfsbane, rushing rivers, and grazing cows en route to the family-run Rifugio Fanes, a backcountry lodge of wood and stone with a huge deck overlooking the natural bowl of the Sasso della Croce and the Cunturines groups of mountains. The unique stratified rock layers and solitary pines on the horizon are known as the "Marmots' Parliament," part of the rich Ladini folklore of stories and legends about these mountains.

Pause to refuel and reward your efforts over lunch. Perhaps you'll try a "radler"—a refreshing mix of beer and lemonade—paired with a hearty bowl of pasta, soup, or polenta.

After lunch, a 15-minute ascent (367 feet) of gradual switchbacks through a carpet of junipers brings you to Limo Pass (at 7,126 feet, the highest point of the day's walk). The trail then levels out at azure Lake Limo, gently undulating into a wide natural amphitheater. The Fanes high plateau has a karstic limestone landscape of wind-carved rock formations, caves, fissures, underground streams, and small lakes. A growing population of fox, deer, chamois, mountain goats, and eagles thrive under the park's protection.

With a final stunning view at the Forcella Col de Locia, a steep and narrow descent of steps brings you to the Capanna Alpina (5,643 feet), where you are rewarded with a refreshing drink or snack. A short drive brings you back to San Vigilio di Marebbe, where there is time to relax, stroll through town, or schedule an Ayurvedic massage, before gathering for dinner in the hotel's dining room.

Accommodation: Hotel Monte Sella, San Vigilio di Marebbe

Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

DAY 4

Badia Valley: La Val to Rifugio Santa Croce and Santa Croce to San Cassiano

4 miles, moderate, 1,315-ft. elevation gain and 3 miles, moderate, 1,640-ft. elevation loss

Departing San Vigilio after breakfast, you head south for the approximately 45-minute drive toward Cortina d'Ampezzo, your home for the next three nights. Today's walk takes place en route, in the area of the Badia Valley—a picturesque Alpine basin that is home to dairy cows, pine forests, and timber chalets—viewed as the heart of the Ladin culture. Set 6,710 feet above sea level, the 15th-century Santa Croce Sanctuary (or "The Crusc," as locals used to call it) is integrated into the Fanes-Senes-Braies Natural Park. The area offers splendid views of some of the Dolomites' most majestic peaks: Lagazuoi, Lavarella, and Sasso della Croce. Following a gentle ascent (with some steep sections) of 2.5 hours, you reach the church (a pilgrimage site) and mountain hut (or rifugio), a family-run business for over five generations.

A hearty meal is served outside (weather permitting) or in the wood-paneled dining room, perhaps you'll top your meal off with some kaiserschmarren (sweet pancake served with fruit compote).

DAY 5

Sesto Dolomites: Tre Cime di Lavaredo Circuit and Independent exploration of Cortina d'Ampezzo

6 miles, easy to moderate, 525-ft. elevation gain and loss with one steep/challenging 15-minute 280-ft. elevation gain

This morning, a 45-minute drive takes you to the start of the day's walk, a circuit around the Tre Cime di Lavaredo, in the Sesto Dolomites Natural Park. These three distinctive peaks are some of the Dolomites' best-known landmarks—prized by rock climbers for their sheer rock faces, appreciated for their amazing pastel and vibrant red hues at sunset. They were also the site of some of the most intense mountain warfare of World War I. In fact, the range constituted the border between Austria and Italy up until 1918. Today's loop walk provides views at all angles, beginning with a drive up the beautiful Tre Cime Panoramic Road to the Rifugio Auronzo at 7,644 feet.

Once you've enjoyed a fortifying cappuccino, set off along a wide trail, a former military track, just beneath the peaks. You'll visit a chapel commemorating the First World War, and veer north, passing the Rifugio Lavaredo. Soon, breathtaking views of the Tre Cime open up, and you may spot rock climbers at seemingly impossible heights on the rock face. After dipping below the Mount Paterno ridge, which is still riddled with wartime tunnels, you follow a level traverse across a scree slope to the Rifugio Locatelli.

Take a short break, then follow a route that initially descends a series of switchbacks before traversing an undulating basin called the Pian da Rin. In this grassy, wildflower-filled meadow, you may hear whistling marmots. This tranquil trail offers spectacular views of the Tre Cime, imbued with a silence only interrupted by the dull clanging of cowbells. A steep but short ascent of 280 steps, probably the day's most challenging section, is soon over and followed by a flat stretch to a mountain dairy hut, where you may be able to taste fresh homemade yogurt or cheese.

You then round the south side of the Tre Cime at the Col di Mezzo pass and close the loop back at the starting point, the Rifugio Auronzo. A short drive delivers you to Misurina, where you are free to choose from a few lakeside restaurants for a satisfying lunch—and an opportunity to sample homemade canederli (bread balls with cheese) or a plate of patate all'ampezzana (pan-cooked potatoes and onions flavored with local speck ham).

Returning to Cortina mid-afternoon, you are free to explore town on your own, perhaps visit one of its numerous museums or browse its enticing shops. Another option is to relax at the hotel with a plunge in the indoor swimming pool or indulge in a treatment at the spa before venturing out on your own to dine at one of the town's many fine restaurants.

Accommodation: Grand Hotel Savoia, Cortina d'Ampezzo

Included Meals: Breakfast

DAY 6

Parco Naturale delle Dolomiti Ampezzane: Monte Nuvolau circuit

4-5 miles, moderate, 1,080-ft. elevation gain and 820-ft. elevation loss

Today's walk is considered one of the finest routes in the Dolomites for its variety of scenery—high peaks, remote wild areas, and significant evidence of World War I warfare. After breakfast at your hotel, you board the coach for the 30-minute drive to where you catch the Cinque Torri chairlift to the Rifugio Scoiattoli. Built by the mountain guide Lorenzo Lorenzi in 1969, this alpine hut marks the start of today's walk. From the refuge's terrace (at 7,300 feet), you're on top of the world, with 360-degree views overlooking the Dolomites' impressive peaks, such as the Croda da Lago and the Cinque Torri. These mountains contain thousands of feet of tunneling, a result of the fierce fighting between Austrians and Italians during World War I, to control the peaks and surrounding territory. Other wartime remnants are still ubiquitous, such as barbed wire, shell fragments, and building rubble. The tunnels and trenches have been restored and comprise part of the Great War Outdoor Museum of the Cinque Torri—the largest World War I open-air museum. Your walk today is along a well-established circuit beneath the Monte Nuvolau, a natural balcony with views over the Tofane range, Mount Lagazuoi, and the Falzarego Pass. Along the route, you may be lucky enough to spot sure-footed chamois on the rocky slopes.

Making your way along the dramatic scenery of mountainside, rock faces, and waterfalls, you reach the Averau Rifugio (at 7,926 feet), a coveted milestone along the Alta Via, where you stop for lunch. While dining at the "Restaurant at the Edge of the Universe" (as The Sunday Times refers to this family-run alpine chalet), you enjoy stunning views of the surrounding peaks of Civetta and Marmolada while savoring exquisite traditional dishes such as smoked roast beef with arugula and fresh homemade pasta prepared by Paola and Sandrone. Fueled for the final leg, you continue to the chairlift for the descent back to the valley and the return (30-minute) drive to Cortina.

This afternoon, you have time to relax, pack, and do any last-minute shopping before gathering for your farewell dinner on the outskirts of town. You are welcomed with a glass of sparkling prosecco on the deck of the inviting chalet restaurant set on a small lake at the base of the Croda da Lago peak. In this intimate locale, the first course, or primo piatto, may be the Cortina specialty of handmade, crescent-shaped ravioli stuffed with tender red beets and topped with melted butter, poppy seeds, and a generous dusting of parmesan cheese. Tonight's main course may be fresh lake trout, grilled to perfection, as you toast your discovery of the beauty of the Dolomites.

Accommodation: Grand Hotel Savoia, Cortina d'Ampezzo

Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner
