Overview

Visitors are drawn to the Netherlands to celebrate its legendary windmills, myriad waterways, and brilliant spring tulips. This tour is easily accessible to all walkers and incorporates ample time to explore historic cities and world-class museums. After a walking tour of Amsterdam, the itinerary progresses to Holland's signature fields of tulips in peak bloom at the stunning Keukenhof Gardens. You continue to the trails of the nation's most famous national parks: the windswept dunes of De Kennemerduinen on the North Sea coast and De Hoge Veluwe, home to deer and boar, and also housing a sculpture garden and the renowned Kröller-Müller Museum, with its fabled collection of Van Gogh and other modern works. A tour of the Netherlands would not be complete without a visit to the famous 18th-century Kinderdijk windmills, which powered the land-reclamation projects that quite literally made this densely populated country habitable. Your accommodations are in carefully renovated historic buildings in the heart of the cities of Haarlem and Utrecht. Haarlem is the home of the Franz Hals Museum, featuring prime examples of glorious 16th-century art, and Utrecht, originally founded as a Roman outpost, later became a Christian stronghold with its grand cathedral. Food and drink are equally satisfying—locally-produced, exotic Indonesian, or bistro fare, accompanied by refreshing and crisp brews.

Daily Itinerary

DAY 1

Walking tour of Amsterdam; 5 miles, easy city walking

This springtime sojourn in the Netherlands begins in its capital and largest city, Amsterdam. After meeting the guides, you set out on a morning walking tour of its vibrant and historic neighborhoods, including the Old South area, known for the early 20th-century Dutch School of Architecture. Also on the route in the Zuid neighborhood is the house where Anne Frank lived before she and her family went into hiding. Lunch is at a local restaurant, overlooking the canals.

After lunch, you have a rest on the brief drive to the city of Haarlem. Your hotel is located in the historic center and upon check-in, time permitting, you can begin exploring this fascinating city directly from the hotel's central location; museums, medieval churches, monuments, and enticing shops are all a short stroll away. You gather in the evening for a short transfer to a Michelin two star restaurant surrounded by wooded dunes. This modern venue is an ideal location to toast the start of your tour over a welcome dinner of delicately prepared local specialties.

Stempels Hotel, Haarlem

In a perfect location in the pedestrian center of Harlem, this charming hotel occupies the former offices and type foundry of the Royal Joh Enschedé printing press. Fully renovated in 2006, contemporary guestrooms have polished wood floors and neutral tones. On-site are a restaurant and brasserie.

DAY 2

Keukenhof Tulip Show and Tulip Fields;
3-5 miles, easy

Today is devoted to basking in the Netherlands' incomparable flowers and gardens. A short ride this morning brings you to neighboring Lisse, just south of Haarlem. Lisse is the center of the annual Keukenhof Tulip Show, where the vast displays of tulips and other bulb flowers may be blooming at their colorful peak. Here, you stroll through Keukenhof's stunning landscaped gardens and view exhibitions showcasing the Netherlands' flower industry (accounting for $12 billion worth of exports). Along the way you are presented with ample opportunities to photograph the glorious fields of flowers including hyacinths and tulips which begin to blossom from April to mid-May, depending on the weather. The idea of creating the world's largest flower garden was conceived by the town's mayor in 1949 and designed on the Keukenhof Estate, which literally means "kitchen garden," as it was placed on the site of the herb and vegetable garden of the 15th-century Countess of Holland, Jacoba van Beieren. Choose lunch in one of the many cafés within the gardens, before strolling farther through the tulip fields, where you may find more photo opportunities. Returning to Haarlem later in the afternoon, you set off with your guides on an easy walking tour of the city for a more in-depth exploration. You stroll through the famed main square (Grote Markt) with its 14th-century City Hall and St. Bavokerk Church.

This evening you dine at the hotel's restaurant, the place where Dutch bank notes and international stamps were once pressed. Highlights of the menu include beautifully prepared fish and seafood, a reminder of Holland's centuries of seafaring and exploration.

Stempels Hotel, Haarlem

DAY 3

Haarlem to Kennemerduinen National Park; 6 miles, easy. Haarlem city tour, 2 miles, easy

Beer brewing was a very important industry in Haarlem, and as a result of this history you are able to walk directly from the hotel this morning along the old brewers' canal, called the Brouwersgracht. Following this trail to the Kennermerduinen National Park on the North Sea Coast, you arrive at the most extensive and unspoiled dunes in Holland. Here, trails pass into quiet mixed deciduous and coniferous forest, over fields of wild-growing shrubs, and undulating sand dunes. You pause for a delicious lunch in a restaurant overlooking the open sea.

Returning to Haarlem, time permitting, you may visit the Frans Hals Museum, which houses a large selection of works by this painter, as well as other famous Dutch artists from the 15th century to the present. Another special Haarlem museum is the Teyler Museum—Holland's oldest—which is housed in the former home of a wealthy 18th-century merchant and banker and offers a fascinating collection of paintings and artifacts. Spicy and exotic, this evening's dinner takes place at one of the city center's many Indonesian restaurants, popular in Holland since the colonial period.

Stempels Hotel, Haarlem

De Hoge Veluwe National Park; 3 miles, easy. Kröller-Müller Museum visit

Rested and packed, you set off promptly this morning for one of Holland's oldest and largest national parks, De Hoge Veluwe, a vast landscape with a variety of ecosystems. Here, heath land dating from the Middle Ages evolved into large expanses of drifting sand as inhabitants cut peat to fertilize fields. Eventually trees were planted to stop the drifting, but the drifted sand is now being partially restored. Almost 4,000 acres of cultivated woodland—chiefly pine and red oak—remain. An extensive trail network throughout the park provides access to fascinating living ecology lessons with beautiful and rare plant species. You may even spot some of the animals who make their home in this nature reserve, species such as red deer, roe deer, a wild sheep called “Mouflon” (originally native to Corsica and Sardinia), and even wild boar.

The park is also the location of the Kröller-Müller Museum, which houses an excellent collection of nearly 300 of Van Gogh’s paintings (including “The Potato Eaters”) as well as works by other modern European painters. Outside the museum is Europe’s largest sculpture garden, which includes works by Rodin, Moore, Lupchitz, and others. The De Hoge Veluwe Park provides a harmonious blend of nature, art, and architecture. Late in the afternoon, continue on to your second home of the week—a boutique hotel located in the heart of this vibrant city. After settling in, dinner is at the hotel’s restaurant, a comfortable and relaxed brasserie.

Grand Hotel Karel V, Utrecht

Medieval charm and modern luxury come together in this unique 5-star hotel in the historic center of Utrecht. The splendid complex of buildings and magnificent courtyard gardens dates from the 14th century. On-site is the convivial Brasserie Goeie Louisa and wellness center with indoor swimming pool.

DAY 5

Historic Utrecht; 1-2 miles, easy. Utrecht to Amelisweerd; 5 miles, easy. Visit to Amelisweerd Estate. Free afternoon (time permitting)

This morning you explore historic Utrecht on foot, leaving directly from the hotel. You follow a path into the green Wilhemina Park and the landmark modernist classic Rietveld-Schröder House, designed by the architect Rietveld. You continue your lovely stroll along the winding Kromme Rijn River. An exclusive lunch of local organic fare is served at the Amelisweerd Estate’s charming carriage house, with its wood stove and open kitchen.

After lunch, you take a short walk through the grounds of this 17th-century estate preserved as a regional park and board your van to return to Utrecht. The late afternoon and evening are yours to design: you may spend the afternoon in the fascinating Centraal Museum, the Netherlands’ oldest municipal museum. The Centraal is located in a renovated medieval cloister and houses a wide collection divided into five categories: old masters, modern art, design, fashion, and local history. With shops open until late in the evening, there is ample time to find unique souvenirs. Dining tonight is on your own. Due to the city's central location, dining options in Utrecht are very representative of Dutch cuisine.

Grand Hotel Karel V, Utrecht

DAY 6

Kinderdijk windmills; 5 miles, easy to moderate

A full immersion into Dutch history and culture, today you visit and experience what the Netherlands is best known for—windmills, picturesque villages, and tidy farmhouses. Set off for the southwest and the famed and highly picturesque windmills east of Rotterdam at Kinderdijk. The 19 windmills at Kinderdijk, built during the 18th century, were the “high-tech” development of the day, harnessing the power of the coastal winds to pump water and build up land. You learn firsthand about this crucial part of local history while you walk on trails along the canals and directly beneath the windmills. Along the way you are immersed in quintessential Dutch countryside—grazing sheep and abundant wildflowers as well as a wetland nature reserve with rare birds such as black tern and marsh harrier. Finally, you cross the Lek River by ferry passing characteristically quaint Dutch villages.

Lunchtime finds you at a typical pancake restaurant, and afterward visiting a cheese farm—a glimpse into this Dutch product renowned the world over. The final dinner is a festive celebration of your exploration of the Netherlands' natural places and cultural treasures.

Grand Hotel Karel V, Utrecht

DAY 7

Departure

After breakfast your guides provide two group transfers to Amsterdam's Schiphol Airport for early morning and mid-morning departures.

ITINERARY CHANGES

We invite you to learn more about our efforts and initiatives for giving back.

Here's just one example that highlights our sustainable practices:

Keeping It Local: In the Netherlands, you can't get more local than a visit to Amelisweerd Estate. At the charming carriage house with its woodstove and open kitchen, enjoy local organic fare in a most authentic and tranquil setting.

ACTIVITY LEVEL

This tour is one of our Guided Walking Adventures, rated easy, with an average of 3 to 6 miles per day. Because the terrain in the Netherlands is relatively flat, there are no elevation gains and losses. The pace of this tour allows you to appreciate the culture and history of the areas you visit. Because this tour takes place in the spring, you can see, in full bloom, the flower fields and gardens for which the Netherlands is known.

Travel Tip

Have a variety of options to start your trip: ATM card(s), credit card(s), and some dollars to exchange.

LANGUAGE

The official language of the Netherlands is Dutch.

While knowledge of the local language is not necessary, you may want to learn some fun and useful phrases; see bbc.co.uk/languages/other/quickfix/dutch.shtml or the enclosed Reading Guide for a suggested phrase book.

Travel Tip

- Bringing your own hair dryer or other electrical device? You'll need a travel converter, available at most hardware, travel, or consumer electronic stores.
- For laptops or an electronic device with a dual voltage switch, you'll need the adapter plug but not a converter.

ELECTRICITY

Alternating current of 220V to 240V and 50Hz is used in the Netherlands. Plugs have either two round pins and a hole, or just two round pins. For a full listing of electrical outlets worldwide, see electricaloutlet.org.

WEATHER

The Netherlands has a maritime climate with cool winters and mild summers. March is the driest month and July and August are the wettest and warmest. During the springtime, average temperatures range from the mid-40s to mid-50s, with some rain at any time of the day.

For up-to-date forecasts, see qwikcast.com. For historical average temperatures and rainfall, see weatherbase.com.

FOOD & DRINK

Given the Netherlands status as a major exporter of farm produce, many dishes feature cheese, meat, and local seafood.

Traditional Dutch specialties include hutspot, a spicy vegetable stew that includes red cabbage or sauerkraut, pea soup with dark rye bread, fried croquettes, meat or sausage, and, of course, raw herring with onion. There are many versions of Dutch pancakes of all sizes, some with complex fillings, and other miniature versions topped with powdered sugar. Tostis, grilled cheese sandwiches, are a popular late-night snack.

Dining out is popular and there is a broad choice of restaurants in all large cities and towns—from fine cuisine to simple pizza. Ethnic restaurants abound, reflecting not only the tastes of Suriname and Indonesia, where Dutch colonies were maintained in earlier days, but also tastes from America (bagels, pizza) and from other European countries, both independently and at “fusion” restaurants.

Dutch beer is, of course, well known internationally, and wine is also produced in the Netherlands along its southernmost border with Belgium. And finally, jenever, also a national drink (from the word for juniper), is a colorless distilled spirit drunk ice cold in one gulp.

Travel Tip

Say “cheese”! The largest cheese exporter in the world, evidence of cheese-making in the Netherlands dates back to as early as 200 BC. Cheese—its making, consumption, and trading—was a central part of Dutch culture by the Middle Ages, with cheese markets arising in the cities of Gouda, Edam, and Alkmaar—each with a cheese of the same name. In addition to those three cheeses, some other types of Dutch cheese are Frisian, Limburger, Bluefort, Maasdam, Old Amsterdam, Maasland, Leyden, and Leerdammer. (Please bear in mind that some Dutch cheeses may be produced from unpasteurized milk.)

Banks are open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday to Friday.

Breakfast is served at hotels from 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. In restaurants and cafés, lunch is served from 12:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. and dinner is usually served from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

assistance, one euro per bag is typical. And in public restrooms, there is usually a change plate on which to leave .50 euros for the attendant.

Travel Tip

Holland or The Netherlands?
The official name is The Netherlands, and the name Holland actually refers to two provinces in the south and north of the country. Notwithstanding, the Dutch are fine with visitors using either name.

Public holidays

To assist in travel planning, it may be helpful to be aware of the Netherlands's public holidays, festivals, or calendars of events. For a list of public holidays, see holland.com/us/tourism/Holland-information/About-Holland/public-holidays.htm.

TRAVEL IN THE NETHERLANDS

A wealth of travel information is available at holland.com/us/tourism.htm.

Airports

The majority of international flights arrive at Amsterdam's Schiphol Airport (schiphol.nl), with short connecting flights to larger cities in the Netherlands on a domestic air network, although it is generally faster to travel by train within the Netherlands.

Trains

Dutch Railways: ns.nl/en/travellers/home, the national railway company site with schedules, fares, and pass options.

Raileurope: raileurope.com or 800.622.8600: a U.S.-based company that provides schedules, reservations, and ticketing for all European train networks (their multi-day/-week/-month passes in one country or combinations of countries may be an economical and convenient choice for European train travel.)

Other local transportation

In addition to rail and airlines, the Netherlands also has a bus network; however, rail is usually faster and more convenient.

Most major car rental agencies are available at airports and train stations. Taxis are available at all major airports, train stations, and in smaller towns, and can be reserved in advance (your hotel can usually provide assistance). Bicycles can also be rented at all train stations, city centers, and some hotels, providing access to Holland's extensive network of bike paths (17,980 miles of them!). For more information, contact Country Walkers, or go to holland.com/us/tourism.htm.

Packing List

PACKING TIPS

Pack light! Keep in mind there will be times you may have to carry your own luggage short distances, especially before and after your Country Walkers tour. Due to space constraints, we require you to limit your luggage to one medium piece (approximately 18x15x29 inches or 8,000 cu. in.) and one small carry-on, per person. We recommend packing any personal necessities, medications, your hotel itinerary/emergency contact information, your hiking boots (or shoes), and extra clothes in your carry-on luggage in the event that your baggage is delayed. We suggest leaving valuable jewelry at home. A copy of your passport or other important documents should be kept in a separate area of your luggage. Always be alert when carrying a purse, camera, money belt, or backpack in busy cities, airports, and train stations.

We require lightweight shoes with proper ankle support and good tread to ensure stability and comfort on all types of terrain. Waterproof footwear keeps feet dry in heavy rain and water resistant footwear keeps feet dry in heavy dew. Country Walkers reserves the right to deny participation to any guest not wearing appropriate footwear.
